

Parades Tomorrow Night In GC, Venice

Hundreds Of Halloween Costumed Marchers Expected To Participate

No doubt about it, the witching season is here!

While major Halloween activities are scheduled for tomorrow night throughout the Quad-Cities, the spirit has been building up over the weekend with a round of parties, costume dances and other appropriate affairs. Parades are set for tomorrow night in Venice at 7:30 o'clock and downtown Granite City at 8 o'clock.

The windows of many local stores and business firms were decorated last week with Halloween posters, 500 of which were shown over the weekend and are to remain on display until tomorrow night.

The posters are the work of local high school students, and prizes totaling more than $100 were awarded by the Associated Retailers and Civic Association, which sponsors the annual Halloween poster contest.

Granite City Parade
The Granite City parade is set for 8 p.m. in front of city hall, where judging will be done at the end of the march.

Costumed characters will parade from the starting point east on Nineteenth street, then west on Nineteenth to Nidderhous and back east on Nidderhous to city hall, where prizes will be awarded.

A long list of prizes will be offered, with local merchants and business firms contributing merchandise and gift certificates to be added to the awards planned by the Moose club.

Prizes will be given in five categories as most original, best dressed, most original and others.

Venice Parade
In Venice, the annual Halloween parade will be co-sponsored by the Venice High School student council and Milton Morris, local businessman.

The Venice parade will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the corner of Second and Hampton streets, then travel down Second street to Kerr street, proceed on Kerr to Third and then on Third to Broadway.

The Halloweeners will then march on Broadway to the school grounds, where the parade will be held by light of a huge bonfire and refreshments will be served.

Mary Margaret Caruso, a member of the student council, is chairman of the Venice parade.

At Kirkpatrick Homes
At Kirkpatrick Homes, the parade will be held this evening for all residents, beginning at 6:30. The parade will cover all streets within the project.

The parade is sponsored by the Pre-Ten club, the Teen club, and the Golden Age Circle, all organizations of Kirkpatrick residents.

A number of church youth groups in the community are collecting "trick or treat" donations for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund — or UNICEF — in a program approved by the Metropolitan Church Federation.

Halloween programs have been sponsored throughout the Quad-Cities area, including many schools, clubs, churches, and civic and service organizations, most offering appropriate decorations and themes for the season.

Final Report Is Scheduled Tomorrow

Signals Checked As 29.6% Of Goal Still Out; $210,071 In

A "fall back and re-group maneuver" was outlined to team members of the Tri-Cities Area $278,463 United Fund drive by General Campaign Manager Sidney L. Aubrey after Thursday's report.

Aubrey and "Coach" John McBride, general campaign vice chairman, brored their workers for a goal line stand as they prepared for tomorrow's final scheduled report.

They were asked to appeal to the County board of supervisors finance committee for support in seeking emergency legislation to give tax relief to the county.

Echoing the plea used by Commercial Division Chairman Robert Toburen, Aubrey said Thursday's "gold helmet" award in a letter to his workers. Aubrey called "time-out—to check signals."

A campaign "Oscar" was awarded to Venice Postmaster Charles Simmons for his work in the campaign. UP Executive Director John Solenberger explained how Simmons and his employees have given 100% participation in the drive for the past two years.

An individual breakdown of division reports by sections follows: Industry Division — large industry, $67,187 or 70%; small industry, $43,055 or 64%; utilities, $55,500 or 81%; contractors, $62,890 or 57.5%; transportation, $12,800 or 33.7%; outside area, $215 or 26.9%; and division total, $34,880 or 69%.

Industrial Employees Division — manufacturing, $92,113 or 33%.

Rejection by House Committee

Two weeks ago the House revenue committee rejected by a vote of 22 to 15 to consider the emergency legislation for 12 counties. A group of 24 Madison countyans attended the hearing at Springfield and were told to call a referendum to re-adjust the county tax rate.

The emergency legislation is being sought because the 10-cent tax rate the county has levied for the past 10 years had been cut to 5.66 cents by a recent ruling of the Illinois Supreme Court, resulting in a loss of $300,000 of the $750,000 needed to run the county.

Proponents of the temporary enabling legislation point out the county would not be increasing its tax rate but with the measure would be able to levy the same amount of taxes as in past years.

The county board, preparing to start work on its new Jan. 1 budget, is considering cutting its tax rate but with the measure would be able to levy the same amount of taxes as in past years.

Realtors Asked To Aid County In Bid For Tax Relief

Members of the Granite City Real Estate Board are holding a special meeting this afternoon, called by President Sam Wolf, to consider a request made Friday by the County board of supervisors finance committee for support in seeking emergency legislation to give tax relief to the county.

Wolf and Richard Reber, chairman of the local realtors' tax committee, and representatives of real estate boards of Edwardsville, Madison, and Venice, met with county finance committee Friday at Edwardsville.

Realtors are being asked to support the county's bid for tax relief measure being sought during the current special session.

The county committee hopes realtors of the county will take favorable action prior to a scheduled meeting of the Senate Finance Committee on Wednesday. The Edwardsville-Colonial Real Estate Board met Friday afternoon and voted in favor of supporting the county proposal.

Bi-State Oks Bus Study; Seeks New Elevator Proposal

A survey to determine the feasibility of a unified transit system is to be started shortly by W. C. Gilman & Co., St. Louis engineer firm, under a contract approved Thursday afternoon by Bi-State Development Agency commissioners.

In other action, the commissioners rejected a counterproposal by a bond underwriting syndicate for purchase of a $5,000,000 revenue bond issue to finance construction of a grain elevator at the Chain of Rocks canal harbor here. Other means of financing are to be sought.

The first step of the mass transit system study will be an appraisal of the 15 Illinois and Missouri bus firms now operating in the two-state area. Letters are being sent to all area municipalities, including Granite City, which have agreed to advance the $100,000 needed for the survey, asking them for 40% of the expenses.

Two Stage Study

The study is to be made in two stages, and the second will be a feasibility report on operation by the Bi-State Agency of a publicly owned, unified mass transit system.

Preston Estep, chairman of the Bi-State Agency, said the survey is being made possible through favorable response from all communities asked to underwrite the expense.

Several other consultant firms had been considered, he said, "but in view of the previous experience of W. C. Gilman & Co. with the mass transportation survey for the city and county of St. Louis, as well as their supplemental report prepared for the Bi-State Development Agency, the decision has been made to accept their proposal."

The appraisal is to be completed in three to four months. In its earlier report, the Gilman Co. advised the Bi-State Agency of a total cost of $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 for acquisition of the 15 private companies, which operate under nine ownerships.

The firm made a study of the transportation system in St. Louis city and county at a cost of $50,000 about two years ago.

Price To Protest Proposed Merger Of Railroads

Representative Melvin Price (Dem., East St. Louis), told members of a group known as the Anti-Merger Railway Employees United here on Thursday he will file a formal protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission in an attempt to halt the proposed merger of the Nickel Plate, Wabash and Norfolk & Western railroads.

The railway employees' group also received pledges of support from other individuals and organizations at the two meetings, both of which were held at the Madison Memorial Center.

Mayor Leonard Davis of Granite City and Stephen Maerac of Madison said they would seek support of an anti-merger resolution from their communities, and Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-City Trades Labor Council, said the organization would give its support.

Maerac said he also was speaking for Venice Mayor Dr. John E. Lee.

The Interstate Commerce Commission currently has before it a request that the merger be approved. The railways state that consolidation is necessary to cut costs.

United Brotherhood of Trainmen International Vice-President Charles Jonkman who attended the meetings, said the Pennsylvania Railroad is supporting the proposed merger since it has interest in the other roads.

Congressman Price echoed earlier statements by railway employees group chairman Arnold McClure of Madison when he told those present that the several hundred jobs lost if the merger is carried out would "affect 1500 persons who provide services" to the men who would be out of work.

McClure estimated 1100 employees of the three rail lines would be adversely affected by the merger. Of that number, he said, about 300 are employed by the Nickel Plate.

Price urged the anti-merger group and its supporters to stress the writing of individual letters to congressmen and representatives in addition to circulating petitions.

McClure, who presided at both of Thursday's meetings, said "the people who deserve the real credit are the individuals who have gone out and made personal contact with business and civic leaders in an effort to gain their support."

About 400 persons attended the 10 a.m. meeting, and 80 were present at the evening session. McClure said similar protest meetings will be held Thursday in the Madison Memorial Center, at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Thweatt, an Edwardsville, Ill. Deputy Sheriff William Thompson, Thweatt was later turned over to St. Clair county deputies and taken to the county jail at Belleville. No charges were filed against the men identified as Stanley Kowalski, and he was released.

In a warrant signed by Assistant State Atty. Kenneth J. Juen, Thweatt was charged with assault with a deadly weapon on Clarence "Bud" White, a St. Clair county deputy.

Thweatt waived a preliminary hearing Friday before Freeburg Police Magistrate Edmund J. Klein, and is to appear before St. Clair County Judge William P. Fleming at 9:30 a. m. Friday in Belleville.

The St. Clair county sheriff's office said Thweatt threatened White with a .38 caliber pistol when White walked into the Pines Nipsey Club in the 900 block of North 37th street, just outside the East St. Louis city limits, about 2 p.m. Thursday.

Thweatt then apparently drove to his home on Slough road, and when authorities caught him there, fled through a rear door into a heavily wooded section. It was not determined when or where he was joined by Kowalski.

Armed Search
A dozen armed men from three law enforcement agencies began combing the area shortly before 4:30 p.m., and after Thweatt had been taken into custody and returned to Slough road, St. Clair county deputies arrived with the assault warrant.

3 Small Children Left In 110-Degree Room

County juvenile authorities are investigating today the abandonment of three small children, two to four years old, in a 110-degree apartment in the 500 block of Niedringhaus avenue yesterday evening. Police were called there about 8:15 p.m. by residents who heard the children crying.

The youngsters, two boys and a girl, dirty and virtually naked, were taken to police headquarters and turned over to County Juvenile Officer, Mrs. John Sigite, who placed them in an emergency foster home, pending action by the county court.

Police were told by neighbors, the mother, about 21, had been gone about three hours. She appeared at police headquarters about 8:30 p.m. and was questioned and released. No charges were placed against her.

Cruse Predicts Boost In Tax Rate Next Year

A 30 to 35-cent boost in Granite City's total tax rate, caused by budget boosts by most local taxing bodies and increased public demands for service was predicted by Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse in a talk Thursday night before the Glenview Civic & Improvement Association.

Cruse said the total rate for Granite City property owners probably will be $4 per $100 assessed valuation. "People want more service and that means the costs go up," he told the group of 10 Glenview area residents who were present at Wilson school.

The assessor re-advocated a complete county-wide reassessment of all property by a private firm to equalize valuations between townships.

He outlined present assessment procedures and answered questions.

The meeting was conducted by William Cedar, member of the association board of trustees, who said other meetings will be conducted on assessment and taxation.

years ago, and at the request of the Bi-State Agency, expanded it to include the Illinois Metropolitan Area at an added cost of about $6000.

The economic feasibility report and the appraisal will determine if State Agency will be able to sell a revenue bond issue to acquire the bus lines.

Still Interested in Elevator

While the counter proposal for the grain elevator bond issue was rejected, Bi-State commissioners and the Illinois Grain Corp. of Chicago still are interested in locating the elevator at the local canal harbor.

The agency is to ascertain if any other investment firm will negotiate the purchase of the $5,500,000 revenue bond issue on terms stipulated by the grain firm since the annual lease payment is based on the bond issue.

At the bond bid opening on Sept. 25, only the counter proposal, submitted by Crutenden-Podesta & Co., Chicago, representing a three-firm syndicate, was received. The interest rate was upped 4 1/2 to 4.75%, and the counter proposal was in the amount of $6,200,000, which made the annual lease price unacceptable to Illinois Grain Corp.

Plans call for a 4,200,000-bushel elevator to be built at the local harbor with the grain firm to maintain the facilities and make annual payments sufficient to cover interest and amortization of the bonds.

Mrs. Akerlund, a cafeteria worker at the Granite City Engineer Depot, said she was returning home from attending a movie, when she saw her baby-sitter, Miss Patricia Devine, 19, of 2105 Miracle avenue, getting children out of the downstairs three-room apartment in the four-family flat.

Miss Devine, who said she also was baby-sitting with the three children of Mrs. Faye Robbins as well as Mrs. Akerlund's two-year-old daughter, was unable to account for the fire. Mrs. Akerlund first went into the middle bedroom where the mattress was smoldering and flaming and then went into the front room where she found Sharon in a chair. She took the child into the hall and collapsed. Firemen estimated the loss at $50 to the mattress.

More Investments, Less Borrowing By GC Schools

Less borrowing and more investments are planned by the Granite City school district as a means of coping with rising educational costs, Supt. Harold M. Kaiser has reported in reviewing the school system's yearly financial audit. Three examples are cited.

1. The audit for 1960-61, just received, shows $4478 earned from investment of idle funds—$2981 for the educational fund and $1496 for the building fund. The superintendent estimates that over $13,000 will be earned in 1961-62 from investing tax funds during periods between their receipt and their use to pay bills or salaries.

2. With the district emphasizing "pay as you go" procedures for constructing additions to existing buildings, the bonded indebtedness has dropped to $4,551,000 at present, $292,000 having been retired in the past year. This compares with a potential maximum indebtedness of $8,749,218, which is 5% of the 1960 assessed valuation of $174,984,365.

3. Operating debt of the district was reduced by $300,000 in 1960-61, educational fund tax anticipation warrants declining from $300,000 to $700,000 and a $100,000 borrowing from the building fund being eliminated.

Dr. Kaiser stressed that the "board of education and administration are making efforts to provide a good educational program as well as reducing the indebtedness of the district."

More For Instruction
In the audit by C. J. Schlosser and Co. for the year ended June 30, Dr. Kaiser noted that the portion of total school expenditures devoted to instruction rose from 82.7% in 1959-60 to 83.6% in 1960-61. "This is a trend in the right direction," the superintendent comments, saying that instruction is the chief function of schools.

The portion of total income received from local sources was cut from 58.34% to 55.75% during the same period, and the portion of revenue from the state rose from 26.15% to 28.55%.

It was possible to build 10 classrooms in 1961—six at Maryville grade school and four at Wilson grade school—due to savings, management of funds, reduction of budget expenditures, sale of Liberty school and similar steps, Dr. Kaiser relates.

Interest Can Double Cost
Citing plans to spend $130,000 in 1961-62 on additions to Coolidge Junior high school, he noted that this might have cost local taxpayers twice as much, $260,000, if handled through a construction bond issue, since interest costs over a long period of years usually equal the bond principal.

"I would like to commend the board for assisting the administration in setting up sound business plans."

RC President To Speak At Dinner

"The Royal Crown Cola Co. and 'Pulse' will be the subject of W. H. Glen, president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, at the 21st annual dinner meeting of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce that also will be the community's official welcome to Royal Crown Cola."

In addition to Glen's talk and the dinner, the meeting will feature installation of 1961-62 officers, a report on the year's activities by C. C. President Paul H. Lichtenberger, and presentation of the 1961-62 board of directors.

John McBride, vice-president and plant manager for the Union Starch and Refining Co., will serve as toastmaster at the meeting, which is set for 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 7, at the Big Top Bowl.

Reservations are now being accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office. Glen has been with the Royal Crown Cola Co. for 30 years, and was elected president in 1955. He is a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Columbus, Ga., where the bottling company has headquarters, as well as the Georgia Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club, and the Columbus Executive Club and the Georgia Bottlers Association.

A well-known leader in civic activities as well as the soft drink industry, he began with Royal Crown as a route salesman and has served as special representative, managing plant manager, treasurer of the company and vice-president.

Board Urges Contract Approval By Custodians
A letter urging settlement of outstanding 1961-62 contract, on the basis of an offer described by the Granite City school board as "firm and final," has been forwarded to Building Service Employees' Local 98.

No reference was made in the letter to an Oct. 16 letter from the local asking that its committee be allowed to meet with the school board to hold a discussion on the contract. A majority of the board members have said they feel that if the committee attends a board meeting, it should be limited to presenting a statement of its views to the board.

Member George Stidham has urged that a discussion be permitted, Supt. Harold M. Kaiser has been handling the negotiations. For the district.

In a comment prepared for inclusion in school board minutes, Stidham urges that "every means to our disposal be used to ensure a fair and earnest effort to settle the agreement with the custodians." The offer includes hourly pay increases of seven cents in 1961-62, an additional five cents in 1962-63 and fringe benefits.

A seniority list submitted by Local 98 for custodial and cafeteria employees is being posted prior to recognition action by the board.

Check Event Dates With Chamber, Dohy Urges

Harlan Dohy, manager of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, has issued a reminder to service clubs, civic organizations and others that the C. C. of C. maintains a community calendar of events to aid those scheduling area-wide activities.

Club and organization officials are urged to contact the office before scheduling major events and to advise the Chamber of the dates of their events once they are set, Dohy said, so as to avoid conflict.

As an added service, he said the events will also be listed in the "Tri-Cities Challenger," the Chamber newsletter, to help publicize them.

Venice Police Club Aids Neighboring Brooklyn

Members of the Venice Police Club Unit 38 have donated $50 to the police department of the village of Brooklyn to help equip a new police squad car. The money was presented to Robert Crittenden, Brooklyn police chief, yesterday morning at city hall by Frank DeWitt, Venice chief of police. Crittenden said the money will be used to install a gun rack in the new squad car, which was partially paid for with funds raised by public subscription. Chief DeWitt said the contribution was given in anticipation that the Police Club fund will be replenished by proceeds from a Halloween dance. In thanking Venice police for the check, Crittenden said he felt such action would serve to increase law enforcement co-operation between the neighboring communities.

Harvey Babre Retires; 35 Years At Laclede

Harvey Babre, 1418 Fifth street, Madison, recently retired after more than 35 years at the Laclede Steel Company's Madison works, where he had been on the job longer than any other hourly paid employee among service and maintenance department personnel.

Babre began his career with Laclede July 21, 1926, and worked as a laborer, crane operator and millwright before transferring in 1931 to the job of steam engineer. He worked on the "C" shift at the time of his retirement.

A native of Carmi, he is a past grand district deputy of the Odd Fellows Lodge and a member of the First Baptist Church of Madison. He expects now to spend some time at his 48-acre farm near Farmington, Mo.

Over 50 Enrolled In Madison CD Training

With more than 50 persons registered for classes thus far, an unusually large training program is in prospect for the Madison civil defense staff this fall and winter. CD Director Harry R. Johnson and Natural Disaster Chairman E. A. Friedman have announced. Representatives of the Dow Metal Products Co., Johns-Manville Corp., Laclede Steel Co., Air Reduction Co. and Owens-Illinois Co. are participating.

A 36-hour course to train radioactivity instructors will begin tomorrow evening at Madison high school, with James Loy teaching the group in weekly 7 to 9 p. m. sessions. A six-week judo course for auxiliary police is in progress, and another class is being formed. Eight new members have been accepted by the auxiliary police unit and 15 more are needed to fill the quotas.

First-aid training by Euell Mann and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Daughman began Friday night at the Madison recreation center, and there has been partial enrollment for a second first-aid group. Instruction also is being planned in education for survival, disaster welfare work and shelter programs. The first aid classes will include sessions devoted to treatment of radiation burns.

A motion picture on various destructive aspects of nuclear warfare was presented to the public last week, and a different film dealing with shelters and self-protection is to be shown in the near future.

Joint planning is under way for revival of the annual Labor Day parade in the area by the Tri-City Trades & Labor Council and the Labor Temple Association.

Edwin F. Reiske, president of the council, said that with last week's approval of a three-day Labor Day festival next year at Wilson Park by the Granite City park district, the council's executive committee is outlining a program as authorized by the council delegates at a recent meeting.

"We hope to secure a top-rank, national labor official as speaker and will begin immediately to make arrangements," Reiske said. He pointed out a resolution was adopted at the recent state AFL-CIO convention, recommending labor council conducting parades on Labor Day.

"Plans for the parade are tentative at present," Reiske added. The council's committee and members of the park board are to meet in the near future to go over plans for rides and concessions for the three-day event.

Hallowe'en One Of Oldest Of Holidays

Hallowe'en is for the very young, but it is one of the most ancient of all holidays. Historians relate. Though much of its past is replete with strife and fear, based on the belief that spirits of the dead return to do evil, the occasion is now one of fun and happiness, with emphasis on parades and parties. Even a touch of benevolence has entered the picture — some youngsters collect funds for charitable causes that night.

Mystic rites and superstitions fortunately are seen today only in the symbols of Hallowe'en, and the pagan observance was designated over 1300 years ago as a time to honor all saints and religious martyrs, known and unknown. The familiar "trick or treat" greeting by children visiting neighboring homes also dates back many years, being heard for at least a century in this country and other lands.

One of the best evolutions in Hallowe'en has been the trend toward turning youngsters' energy away from destructive vandalism and into constructive channels. Vandalism remains senseless, both for children, who can have more enjoyment in other ways, and for their parents, who must pay for the damage.

United Fund Needs Help Of All Not Yet Participating

With United Fund pledges barely above 70% of the goal and time running out, it rests with the Quad-Cityans not yet participating to put the vital fund drive over the top.

Those not yet contacted should speed word of their contributions to the UF headquarters; those solicited but declining ought to reconsider, for it would be a serious setback for the community and everyone in it if the many-faceted welfare program failed to obtain sufficient funds.

United giving means just that—joint efforts by citizens of the Quad-Cities to support once a year the agencies that serve them and their neighbors throughout the year. For the United Fund symbol to have meaning, each must give his fair share. For the drive to be concluded on schedule, the time to give is now.

Mass Education Should Be Made A Condition Of U. S. Foreign Aid

How foreign aid is used affects Quad-Cityans both because they help pay the bill and because they are concerned whether foreign nations are strong defenders of freedom or easy prey to enemy subversion and conquest. It would seem logical and just to include as a condition of such aid a requirement for rapid progress toward mass education, for nothing resembling democracy can function without a free press and a majority of the citizens able to read and understand public issues.

The subject is brought to mind by news from Venezuela that the South American country has reduced its literacy rate from 60% to 28% in a three-year period. This demonstrates what strides can be made, and there is little question that American dollars exert a strong influence on many other nations with a similar lack of public education.

To counteract some foreign leaders' preference for keeping their constituents ignorant, why not tie this string around U. S. aid funds?

Leadership Course Stresses Participation By Parents

A program that potentially can impress citizenship responsibilities on many local residents is laymen's leadership training of the type launched by the Granite City Area Council of Parent-Teacher Associations this fall.

Although aimed primarily at developing PTA leadership, such instruction stresses the general need for participation by individuals in shaping the policies of organizations and governmental bodies. In showing how such action can be made effective, the course can benefit those who enroll and also those who learn from them at later PTA meetings. It is also intended to give perspective on the division of educational responsibility between parents, PTA units and the schools.

It is unfortunate that this year's program had to be curtailed due to the small registration. Perhaps it can be revived later after steps have been taken to assure a larger turnout.

Let's see now—what holiday is it that occurs on October 31? Perhaps tomorrow's menu at the St. Elizabeth school cafeteria will provide a clue: ghostburgers, witch's salad, trick-or-treat potatoes and caramel apple on a broom.

Imaginative Christmas Art Show To Continue

Christmas has not yet arrived—there are 46 shopping days left—but already there is good news about the holiday season. The traditional Christmas art show held at the Granite City high school auditorium will be presented again, despite an earlier decision to abandon it.

The show has attracted capacity crowds each year with its colorful and imaginative array of table centerpieces, door displays, gift packages and other Yuletide artwork. Each family throughout the country obtaining decorating and wrapping ideas for the holiday season will not be disappointed.

Image Of "Billion" Shrinks As Spending Increases

The word "billion" has lost much of its overpowering effect because it is used so often, but statistics assembled by the Tax Foundation restore a measure of meaning to the term. For example, if the federal government reduced its yearly spending by a billion dollars, each family throughout the country would benefit by the equivalent of an electric blanket or toaster.

A $3 billion cut would provide a lawnmower or vacuum cleaner, and a $5 billion tax reduction would afford a dietetic set, high-fidelity phonograph or similar purchase for the average family. For the current yearly spending of $88 billion, each local family's share figures out at $1500. Looked at another way, a business started at the time of Christ and losing an average of $1000 a day since then would not reach a billion dollars for another 778 years.

The figures are informative, but we cannot help noting the evolution in the type of examples. Whatever happened to the illustration of stacking silver dollars or placing bills end to end?

This is the time of year for hunters to be careful.

Expect Early Arrest

upon his return to the state company.

Ronney told county and state authorities Barnes followed him to the office of the St. Louis Slag Products Co. and became abusive. Granite City police were called at 4 p.m. and an officer informed Barnes the accident occurred first in the town limits. He gave Barnes an accident report form to be filled out and sent to the state. It was found under Barnes on the seat of the car when his body was discovered. Granite City police said the left rear fender of Barnes' car was dented slightly.

Accident About 3:45 P.M.

Time of the accident was placed at about 3:45 p.m., and it was shortly after 4 p.m. that Niehaus rode up on a motor scooter on his way to the railroad tower and was stopped by police.

"He asked me to tell them at the tower that he would be a little late for work because he had an accident. He was to be on the job at 4 p.m.," Niehaus told the Press-Record at the scene.

It was about 4:45 p.m. when Niehaus returned and saw Barnes' car parked on the south side of the road. "I thought he was asleep," he said. "I went over to the car and saw him lying on the seat. I opened the door and started to shake him when I noticed the blood on the seat," Niehaus continued.

Niehaus rushed to a watchman's shanty at the railroad crossing about a quarter mile away. Where he asked Guard Clarence Lowe, 2000 Sken street, Madison, to call police.

Granite City police were first on the scene and summoned the sheriff's office and Deputy Coroner Sealack, Assistant State's Atty. Gitchoff also was notified and arrived on the scene.

As the body was being removed from the front seat, Gitchoff found a battered slug under the man. Four hours later, a pathologist, Dr. Thomas Cooper of a St. Louis clinic, removed two more slugs during an autopsy. He said Barnes had been shot there were 12 bullet holes in the body. Death was caused by a bullet through the spleen, kidney, heart and a lung. At least one bullet passed through his left arm and into his side.

Barnes apparently had stopped his car along the road to look over the accident report, when the murderer approached his car and fired pointblank through the window, authorities believe.

Carol Ann Biggs Second In Majorette Competition

Carol Ann Biggs, 10, daughter of Mrs. Pat Biggs of 2564 Center street, was first runner-up in the Illinois preliminary contest in the Miss Majorette of America pageant Saturday at Peoria and placed second in fancy strutting. She also placed second in solo twirling, strutting and stage modeling Saturday night, and was named first in the twirling and fancy strutting and second in solo twirling and military strutting in Sunday's competition.

Weed Fire

A weed fire at the end of Victory drive was extinguished Sunday afternoon by Granite City firemen. No loss was reported.

Gitchoff called upon State Police Capt. Toffant, who brought with him Detectives Carl Jule Label and Trooper William Mercuro. Sheriff Musso assigned Deputy William Thompson to the case, guided by night riders, and the investigating team was joined Thursday night and early Friday by J. Robert Scott, special agent for the Nickel Plate.

Had Cashed $124 Check

Capt. Toffant instructed his men to look into the bookkeeping and income service business that Barnes operated. He said Barnes operated the side in a further search for clues. Barnes, a railroad foreman, 42 years, was night ticket agent at the East St. Louis bus depot. He had $13 in his wallet and 42 cents in his pockets, when found. He had cashed a $124 payroll check at a local tavern about 11 a.m. and none of it was found on him. He had left home with $13.

Barnes' wife, Louise, 33, who was interviewed by Gitchoff and Capt. Toffant in the office of Deputy Coroner Sealack at Madison Thursday night, while an autopsy was being performed on her husband, was unable to give any reason for the shooting. Funeral services for Barnes were held Saturday in East St. Louis.

He also is survived by four children, Colleen, 12, Milly, 11, Kathy, 9, and Scott, 2.

No date has been set for the inquest, and authorities are awaiting a battery report expected today from Springfield on two .22 caliber revolvers. The dead shooter who volunteered their guns to authorities were Jack Smith, 23, of 1352 Madison street, and John Clift, 46, of 2203 Fourteenth street. Smith said he had bought the gun from a friend earlier that day. Deputies accompanied them about a half-mile away beyond the murder scene and reported they found the shells. They said there was an embankment between the target area and Barnes' car.

THE PASTOR SPEAKS

KEITH W. STANFORD
Suburban Baptist Church

What do troubles do to you? Some folk are defeated by them, while others find new strength. Perhaps the question should be, "What do you do with troubles?"

This question would help us see that we do not triumph over trials in passive resignation, but in active living. The hymn-writer urged "Cast thy burden on the Lord, lean thou only on His Word." But we can do more. We can make our trials an offering to God, and use them to bring us nearer Him.

The Apostle Paul tells about his triumph over trial. It is in looking sometimes to realize that he overcame them not by securing their removal, but by bearing them and making them same trials a source of spiritual strength. He writes, "I will all the more gladly boast of my weaknesses, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities; for when I am weak, then I am strong." (II Cor. 12:9-10, RSV)

We triumph over trials this one way: drawing closer to Christ, and living in His strength. Then we too hear Christ say "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness."

Live thy life through me, Lord, throughout each night and day. Help me be Thy witness, Lord. To show all men Thy way. Guide me through these trials, Lord, through bitterness and strife, For I would live in thee, Lord, that Thou might'st be my life.

direction of Szymon Goldberg. Orchestra is the first of four musical attractions on this season's concert association schedule.

The Netherlands Chamber Orchestra (Het Nederlands Kammerorkest) is in the midst of its first tour of the North American continent. Goldberg, who is also first violinist with the orchestra, is the group's principal soloist. The orchestra itself is composed of 23 strings and a harpsichord, and boasts a repertoire of over 150 classical and contemporary works performed. Fire Training Recommended For Patrolman On Each Shift

(This is the 37th in a series of articles based on a reorganization study of city government in Granite City by Southern Illinois University.)

Training of at least one patrolman from each shift of the Granite City police department in fire duty would make possible a means of reducing the serious manpower shortage in the fire department, the SIU team of experts recommends.

"This officer should respond to all fire alarms, with his place on patrol being taken by the other officers and shift supervisor. The shift supervisor would assign whatever personnel was required for traffic duty at the fire in addition to the patrol assigned to fire duty."

"The officer trained in fire service would place himself under the direction of the chief of the fire department at the scene of the fire. Since he might often arrive at the fire before the apparatus, he would engage in any rescue, salvage or extinguishing he might be able to accomplish."

"The city might find it desirable to use station wagons for these officers and equip them with stretchers and inhalators. This would give emergency aid to any accident, fire or other occurrence more quickly than can be accomplished at present."

The fire service should receive a higher rate of pay than either regular police patrolmen or firemen because of their dual training.

"This plan is recommended because it is the effect of adding one man to one fire company at no increase in cost to the city. At the same time, the city is receiving increased police patrol effectiveness even with one man serving at a fire, since there will still be four cars on the street. Such an arrangement will be a step in reducing the National Board of Fire Underwriters' deficiency points in their rating of the fire department."

The SIU team suggest such special fire training for a police officer, only if the city increases its number of patrol districts to five from the present three. In addition to five patrol cars in operation, the university experts recommend a patrol supervisor be on duty for each shift.

In another recommendation, it is suggested the department should develop a form called a field interrogation report which many police departments use throughout the United States.

"The main purpose of the report is to keep officers alert so that they can keep an adequate record of the characteristics of suspicious characters and vehicles."

"A control should be kept in the detective division for follow-up on persons frequently stopped by the patrol officer. The form should be in two copies, the original to be filed in the records division and the other to the detectives' file."

JA Companies In Operation; Products, Sponsors Listed

Eleven local Junior Achievement companies expected to swing into full production this week with the products they will make here during the coming months.

All began partial operation last week, and products varying from foot scrapers to Christmas decorations will be placed on the market by the miniature student corporations, whose "factories" and "executive offices" are located in the Granite City Junior Achievement center at 2009 Madison avenue.

Each firm meets one night per week in the production hall at the center, which are equipped with metal-working, welding, molding, cutting, bending, stamping, wood and plastic-working equipment.

Production and sales quotas are established. In addition to producing for the Junior Achievement products, the Achievers also sell stock in the firms, and divide the profits among the students. The firms are providing sponsorship and adult advisors for the 11 companies this year.

Banking services are being provided with a JA window in operation at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank from 4 to 6 p. m. each Thursday.

JA corporations, their sponsors and products being turned over in the production hall include Gi-Gal Co., General Steel Industries, Inc., a memory board for students, Youth Enterprises, Granite City Steel Co., a hand-hanger which is attached to a car's bumper, Youth Enterprises, Ford-Motor Co., abstract planters, Mis-Co., Granite City Steel Co., a potato peeler, a skewer for whole potatoes for placing in the oven; Jay-Dow, Granite City Steel Co., a can bank; and Granjaque, Granite City Steel Co., a foot scraper.

Don Mueller, program director for JA of the Madison Valley area, who includes the Granite City center, said JV will host the midwinter conference of Junior Achievers from the Mid-west and south-central Canada in St. Louis Dec. 27-29.

Post Office Issues Warning To Vandals

Quad-City area post office officials are calling attention to the federal statute on vandalism to mail boxes by Halloween pranksters.

"To tamper, remove or molest in any way a mailbox in the city or rural area is a federal offense. A maximum fine of $2000 and two years in prison can be levied against violators. A federal directive states that the Post Office department intends to prosecute any person violating this law."

Mrs. Frieda Blattner was hostess to the Po-Ke-No Club in her home Wednesday. The members arrived with covered dishes to be served during the noon hour. Games were played with the top award going to Mrs. Maxine Rutledge. Other players were Mrs. Marie Stawar, Mrs. Nettie Gnojewski, Mrs. Betty Allen, Mrs. Diane Hazel, Mrs. Veronica Kula and Mrs. Pat Gerkin.

Mrs. and Mr. Carl J. Kittell of 1510 Fourth street, returned to their home Saturday evening from a vacation time spent in Miami, Fla., and in Nassau, Bahamas, where several tours were taken and places of interest visited. The trip was made by plane.

Simpkins, vocal music director at Granite City High School, attended the fourth annual vocal music clinic, while Simpson, piano instructor, attended the annual piano clinic. Music educators and instructors from high schools, colleges and private schools in Illinois and adjoining states attended the sessions.
